Caring for Photographic Collections

If you have special photographs that mean a great deal to you, whether they are old family photographs passed down to you or brand new photos that you took with friends just last week, you don't want to lose them. Photographic media are sensitive materials that require special housing to ensure their longevity. This webinar, held in the conference room at the Boyle County Public Library on January 17th at 2 pm, will examine suitable housing supplies, including paper, plastics, boxes, and more. Safe handling of photographs will also be discussed.

Pee Wee Reese, Baseball Great

Dick Usher, a Chautauqua speaker, will be presenting "Pee Wee Reese, Baseball Great" on Thursday, January 25th at 5 pm. The program is sponsored by the Kentucky Humanities Council, Inc. This is something baseball fans and non-fans alike should enjoy!

"Harold Henry Reese got his famous nickname Pee Wee from a marble he used when he was a boy. The name fit because he turned out to be a man of modest stature, but by every measure you could apply to an athlete — teamwork, leadership, determination, winning, grace under pressure — Pee Wee Reese was a giant. Born in Meade County, Kentucky, Reese grew up in Louisville. At 19, he quit his job at the telephone company to play professional baseball for the Louisville Colonels. By 1940, he was playing for the Brooklyn Dodgers. As captain, shortstop, and lead-off man, he led the Dodgers to seven pennants and, in 1955, a World Series win. Inducted into the Baseball Hall of Fame in 1984, his plaque there also records the powerful example he set when Jackie Robinson joined the Dodgers in 1947 as the major leagues' first black player. Reese's acceptance and support of Robinson were instrumental in breaking down baseball's color barrier."

Another Warm Welcome to New Staff

Rachel Virgil, originally from Mishawaka, IN. sold her photography as notecards to the Speckled Egg Gallery (which has since closed) here in Danville before moving here seven years ago. She is currently a college student at BCTC pursuing an Associate's Degree in CIT Programming, and has also been a part-time IT Technician at BCTC for two years. Besides her love of technology, has interest in cognitive neuroscience, loves animals, and enjoys Jane Austen novels and the Stephanie Barron Jane Austen Mystery Series.

She hopes that more women will take interest in science and technology and find inspiration from the Hidden Figures (Katherine Johnson, Dorothy Vaughn, and Mary Jackson).

She has joined the computer help desk staff at the top of the stairs. Feel free to give her a warm welcome if you happen to see her!

Spring 2018 Film Series

Somebody once said that variety is the spice of life. Variety is also a good way to describe the Friends of the Library 2018 spring film series. The films chosen for the upcoming series have been selected based on their genre. Since we started the series in 2002 films have been included according to their date of production, their particular subject matter, or their belonging to a particular genre. This spring's series will include a musical, a gangster film, a thriller, a sports film, a film noir, and a war film. Most of these films have won or been nominated for Oscars.

Also we will see many of the great actors and actresses of the 20th century: Judy Garland, Kirk Douglas, Fred MacMurray, Paul Muni, Frank Sinatra, and Barbara Stanwyck.

There is no charge for admission, and free popcorn will be available. The films will be introduced by Charles Vahlkamp and followed by a brief discussion.
